

On 23rd January, Kings Avenue children received a visit from very special visitors – the staff and owls from the Night Owl Company. Erica and Olivia brought some of their owls for the wonderful whole school workshop.

Erica and Olivia taught the children learnt all about the special adaptations that help owls to thrive in their natural habitats. They were also keen to teach the children the importance of looking after the environment so that owls can continue to survive in the wild.

Then, children and staff created a flight path and watched as the owls flew and swooped silently around the hall. The children were thrilled to experience the display.

Later, all children were able to have a photograph with an owl and some classes had an opportunity to complete an observational sketch of an owl.

Following the visit, many children were inspired to produce further pieces of art, written reports about owls and recounts of the visit.

The day was a truly unforgettable experience for all children.
